

Super•Dre [soo-per-dray]

- proper noun

1. a Michigan-born DJ and producer
2. a byproduct of years of classical music training and nerdy computer skills

Over the past few years, SuperDre has brought her unique sound and contagious stage presence to events across North America. The year 2009 saw the launch of Bass Candi, a boutique label founded by SuperDre that showcases the funky, minimal-techno sound she is known and loved for.

Along with an artist agreement with Native Instruments, one of SuperDre's biggest claims to fame is the Technical Genesis mix series – a ten-volume showcase of her ability to effortlessly create an ultra-trendy mix of minimal techno, electro and retro. In 2009, she also had a cameo in the film Movie Logic 101 and was also won the 2009 Grand Rapids Club DJ of the Year award.

Residencies have included ACTIVESITE, The Hookah Lounge, Sixx Nightclub, MyPlace Nightclub, and Galewood. SuperDre has appeared at many leading venues in the Midwest, including Crush, Drink Ultra Lounge, Moxie, Grand Rapids Art Museum, Churchills, the Intersection, NAYA, Asian Village, the Works, Oslo, Anatomy, Funky Buddha and The Room. She is also still active in the underground scene appearing at festivals, warehouse parties and after hours events where it all began.

Influences: Ricardo Villalobos, Loco Dice, Bassnectar, Green Velvet, Adultnapper, Cassy, SIS, Kid Sister, Claude VonStroke and Daniel Mehlhart.

QUOTES:

"We've profiled SuperDre a couple of times. Staff is sure she's on to a worldwide rep." – Carol Valedester, Editor In Chief for Gemini Publications

"A phenomenal DJ and producer...and an even more phenomenal person." – Thomas Raukamp, Editor for BEAT Magazine

"Dre has single-handedly given life to an electronic music scene in our city that I didn't think would ever exist. She's a great DJ, but also just a plain good person." – Brent Hermiz, Owner of Hookah Lounge

"VERY talented musician! Being classically trained has definitely given her an edge above the rest." – SONNRIZE, DJ
